Boca de Agua

BACALAR, MEXICO

THE VIBE: Gently inhabiting the jungled shores of Laguna de Bacalar, a freshwater lagoon near the Yucatán coast, this new hotel of 22 suites and four rooms from famed Mexican architect Frida Escobedo brings regenerative design to new heights—literally.

STYLE MOMENT: Boca de Agua's treehouse-style accommodations float on pillars, reducing impact and enchanting the eye at the same time. The house-designed furniture is largely crafted by local artisans using leftover wood from a nearby plywood processor.

BOOK IT: Rates start at $320; bocadeagua.com.

LEANDRO BULZZANO

Hotel Lucine

GALVESTON, TEXAS

THE VIBE: A former beach motel gets a Cinderella glow-up—thanks to a savvy blend of 1960s nostalgia and 21st-century luxury from Austin-based Kartwheel Studio. With its new rooftop bar overlooking the Gulf, Hotel Lucine is the coolest kid on the Texas coast.

STYLE MOMENT: The original roofline has been made into art with fresh, Insta-popping colors.

BOOK IT: Rates start at $165; hotellucine.com.

Edgecamp Pamlico Station

HATTERAS ISLAND, NORTH CAROLINA

THE VIBE: Memo to the Outer Banks: You are the proud owner of a fantastic vibe shift. This brand new, wellness- and recreation-forward hotel is the OBX dream of designer Jonathan Adler, who brings his trademark ebullience to the scene. Look for Hatteras Island to be the spot on the North Carolina coast from now on.

STYLE MOMENT: Bold colors, youthful curves, and cheeky modernist accents meet bright-white shiplap in 14 suite-style rooms.

BOOK IT: Rates start at $250; edgecamp.com.
